A Couple of ‘Mid-Course Adjustments’ Are Necessary

During the days when NASA space flights were covered heavily on television, I was always intrigued when the astronauts had to perform “mid-course adjustments.” With all the computerized guidance that NASA had at its disposal, they still needed to adjust things in the middle of the project. I guess that frame of reference is comforting when I write this article about what I consider to be “mid-course adjustments” for this school year.

GEORGIA CONCUSSION LAW & GHSA BY-LAW 2.68

The Georgia General Assembly passed and the Governor signed the “Georgia Return To Play Act” that specifies important protocols that apply to all GHSA sports. Because these protocols are matters of state law, they carry special significance for our member schools. Here are some highlights about these protocols that are mentioned on the GHSA web site (Click “Inside GHSA” and then click “Sports Medicine”):

1. If a student participates in multiple sports, the form signed by the student and the parents must be completed in each sport. One copy of this form should go to the family, and the other copy should be retained at the school. A recent court case in another state dealing with a concussed athlete hinged on whether the family had been given proper warning about the risks inherent in athletics.

2. All coaches must complete the free, on-line course dealing with “Concussion Management” by going to www.nfhslearn.com. Each coach must complete the course this year, and then must complete updated versions of this course at least once every two years. Each school needs to monitor the completion of this requirement with its coaches.

3. The protocols for removing a student from play and returning the student to play must be followed at both practices and games. If officials see signs and/or symptoms of a concussion with a player on the field during a game, that player is taken to the head coach on the sidelines, and the official will tell the coach what he has seen. If the coaches see these signs and symptoms, they should take action to remove the student from play. After that, the player must be assessed to verify the possibility of a concussion. The overriding motto is: “When in doubt, keep them out.” For practices, coaches have the responsibility of looking for signs and symptoms of concussion among the players.

4. Coaches may be asked by game officials about whether there is an “appropriate medical professional” on-site at the game. Without such a person present, no player may return to that contest after showing the signs and/or symptoms of a concussion. An appropriate medical professional is defined as an MD, an osteopath, an advance practice nurse, a physician’s assistant, or a certified athletic trainer.

RECLASSIFICATION PROCESS

Because the FTE counts from the Georgia Department of Education are not available at this time, there will be a slight modification in the time table. The final date for ratifying the new plan will still be Tuesday, January 14, 2014. The first deadline has been modified somewhat. When the FTE numbers are released on the GHSA web site, member schools will have seven (7) days instead of 14 days to appeal the FTE count. The only basis for the appeal would likely be that the GHSA made a typographical error transferring the GaDOE count. When the reclassification information is posted on the home page of the GHSA web site, there will be specific dates when the Reclassification Committee will place schools in classifications and in regions.

Executive Committee Selects Phillips New GHSA Director

THOMASTON - In a special called meeting of the State Executive Committee on October 16th, the Georgia High School Association unanimously approved the election of Gary Phillips to replace the retiring Dr. Ralph Swearngin as Executive Director. Phillips, the GHSA assistant executive director since 2001, will assume his new role on July 1, 2014.

Phillips had been nominated by the GHSA Board of Trustees after four candidates had been interviewed, and the board's pick was ratified by a 52-0 vote on Wednesday in a meeting at the GHSA office.

"I am profoundly honored for the trust and support expressed by the members of the Executive Committee," said Phillips. "Ralph Swearngin has been a great steward of the Georgia High School Association. I can only hope to carry on the legacy he has created over the past 20 plus years, first as the assistant director and the last 13 as its director.

"The challenges to the association will continue and I can say we will work diligently for the betterment and prolonged success of the Georgia High School Association."

Phillips was principal of Fayette County High School for 15 years before coming to the GHSA 12 years ago. Prior to that, Phillips had been a football coach at Fayette County, West Rome, Central of Macon and Johnson County. Phillips' 1979 Johnson County team, led by a running back named Herschel Walker, won the state Class A football championship.

Swearngin became the GHSA's executive director in 2001. He had served the GHSA since 1992, originally as commissioner of officials and deputy director before replacing Tommy Guillebeau as executive director.

"I am very pleased that the GHSA Executive Committee selected Gary Phillips to be the next Executive Director," said Swearngin. "For the past 12 years, Gary has been vitally important to the operations of the GHSA and has been extremely helpful to me as I carried out my duties.

"Gary's background in school operations, plus his work with the GHSA and the National Federation of State High School Associations prepares him well to take the administrative leadership of this association. The landscape of education on the local and the statewide level is changing radically and rapidly, and I believe that Gary will provide vision and leadership to move the GHSA forward into new territory."

The GHSA has had only four previous executive directors, beginning with Sam Burke (1946-81) and including Bill Fordham (1982-91) and Guillebeau (1992-2000).

2014 GHSA Golf State Championships Returning to Augusta

The Augusta Sports Council announces that the Georgia High School Association Golf State Championships, presented by E-Z-GO, will return to the CSRA in 2014.

The boys and girls Golf State Championships in all six classifications will be held at up to 12 Augusta-area golf courses on Monday, May 19, 2014 with a practice round on Sunday, May 18, 2014.

Golf courses committed to hold play include Applewood Golf Course, Bartram Trail Golf Course, Belle Meade Country Club, Champions Retreat, Forest Hills Golf Club, Gordon Lakes Golf Club, Goshen Plantation Golf Club, Jones Creek Golf Club, Pointe South Golf Club, Waynesboro Country Club and Westlake Country Club.

Combined, the championships will bring over 1,000 golfers and coaches, in addition to family and friends, to the Augusta area. These courses will host 14 state championships -- the first time that this many state championships will be held in the same city, on the same day.

Gary Phillips, Assistant Executive Director of the GHSA, says, "The Georgia High School Association is proud to partner with the Augusta Sports Council, E-Z-Go and the area golf courses to host the 2014 state championships. We had a great event in 2012 and are excited that the state's best high school teams will again experience the rich golf tradition of the Augusta area."

"We are proud to partner with the GHSA and the Augusta Sports Council to bring the Golf State Championships here, in a year that will mark E-Z-GO's 60th year in business," said Kevin

Holleran, president of E-Z-GO. "We can think of few better ways to celebrate our diamond anniversary than to support youth sports, provide opportunities to the next generation of golfers, and also promote our hometown of Augusta."

Wade Marchman, Burke County High School golf coach and athletic director, will serve as the tournament director. He said, "We are very excited for the CSRA to have the opportunity to host all the state championships again. None of this would be possible without the support of the head golf professionals, members of these local clubs and the Augusta Sports Council. We are so proud that the GHSA has the confidence in us to conduct this first class event."

Anyone interested in volunteering for the 2014 State Championships may contact Michelle at the Augusta Sports Council (706-722-8326 ext. 235) or email at michelle@augustasportsCouncil.org.
